Sheridan is putting in all his spare time revising his brother's memoirs, and expects to have the work ready for publication about the holidays. Mrs. Sheridan is living quietly with her children in Washington in the beautiful home presented by Chicago citizens to the General at the time he went to Washington to take command of the army. She is devoting her life to the rearing and education of her children. Master Phil, his unclessays, is a miniature Gen. Sheridan, and seems born to command. He already rules the household. He is destined to a career in the army, and an appointment at West Point will be his as soom as he is old enough. He is now in his ninth year. Republican Candidates on the Fusion Ticket Disastrously Left.

Returns from the political battlefield have been canvassed up to the moment of going to press, and The Evenine World is this morning enabled to furnish the latest and most complete figures on the State, County, Judiciary, Legisative and Aldermanic Tickets.

The victory of the Democratic State ticket is even greater than was anticipated. New York City rolls up a plurality of 65,006 for Rice for Secretary of State, while the Republicans come down to the bridge with bu little over 40,000. Rice, Wemple, Danforth, Tabor and Bogar are elected by pluralities ranging from 25,00 to 20,000. Ontario County, Frank Rice's home, give im 1,000 plurality, though on the other Stat flicers it went Republican. The Republicaus have the same representation in the next Senate as in the present, 20, agains

Three Famous Missourians. [From the Kansas City Times.]

The three most famous men now living in Kansas City are J. Scott Harrison, the President's brother, whose arrest for allowing water to stand in the basement of one of his houses has been commented upon by the pross of the country scenerality; Mayor Davenpoyt, who has attained notoriety as a puglist by his break at Congressman Tarsney, and Congressman Tars-ney, whose name has been published and com-mented upon with that of the Mayor in every paper in the United States.

Why Julian Had to Go. (From the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.) George W. Julian was one of the pioneers and heroes of the anti-slavery cause, but he stood in the way of the land thieves, and was removed with the official assurance that there were no reasons for it "other than those usually exist-ing in a change of Administration." Cities show majorities as follows: Richmond, 5,364, gain 3,426; Manchester, 411, gain 256; Norfolk, 1,500, gain 2,086, The Democrate probably gain a Senator in Norfolk County and in the City of Portsmouth. Mahone is howling fraud. Mahone's residence, on Market street, ex-ploding fire works, one of the number, a young man named Herbert P. Harrison, was shot by somebody in Gen. Mahone's yard. Harrison gave a groan and fell to the ground. His comrades rushed to his side, lifted him up and carried him to Dr. Leigh's. An ex-amination was made and it was discovered that a ball, which must have been fired from a riffs, had passed through the fleshy part of the left thigh and struck the other thigh sufficiently hard to bruise it. The young man was in a great deal of pain and the excitement grow every dence of Squire James P. Banks and swore out a warrant charging Gen. Mahone himself with the deed. The first report had been, however, that Butler Mahone, the General's son, had fired the shot. Several members of the com-pany present with Mr. Harrison imagined that they recognized young Mahone in the yard when An officer with the warrant of arrest repaired that he was ready

By this time the street in front of the house was crowded with people. The distance to the court-room was some half a dozen blocks down one of the principal streets and all the way down the crowst was automented. When the party reached Hark street Gen. Mahone was taken at once before Squire Banks, accompanied by his private secretary and several personal friends. With the disappearance of the General in the house the excitement grew percentibly and several young men gave a cheer for Capa. McKinney. The situation appearing to be a trifle grave, J. F. Mcliwaine, Chairman of the City Democratic Committee, who happened to be present, addressed the crowd, saying that it was his wish that all Democrate who were present should at once disperve, and that if any offense had been committed the matter was in the hands of the law, to which the person charged was amenable. The effect on the crowd was instantaneous and salitary. Several other gentleman present seconded the remarks of 4r. Mcliwaine, and in a few moments all excepting about a dozen men in the crowd dispersed in an orderly manner. One or two threats of lynching were heard.

It appears upon a further examination of Mr. Harrison's wound that it is not serious; the less of blood so far has been slight, and the doctors fear no unfavorable result. The leading Democrates of the city are carting themselves to allay the excitement and all express regret at the unhappy circumstance.

Mayor Collier was sent for and began an examination of the case at once. The first wisness was C. F. Romaine, who had swore out the warrant Mr. Romaine had charged Gen Mahone with the shooting. On the stand before the warrant distribution had been shot either by Gen. Mahone or Edmund Berry, who stood in the yard with Mahone. Romaine, who was standing across the street when the first shot was firod, hurried over, and a heated collowy ensued between him and the General. He charved Mahone with Mahone. Romaine and Berry, as a result of which several blows were struck.

did not fire, nor did he see any one else fire. He did not know that anybody had been shot until told so.

Archie Campbell, of Wheeling, W. Ya., was one of the grattlemen present in Gen. Mahone's library when the party with the fireworks came along. He seized a gun at the same time Gen. Mahone did and went before him out on to the porch or versada. He scoop discovered that his gun would not work, and he simply held it in his hand. He was confident that Gen. Mahone did not fire the gun he had.

He stood where he could see the General, who had advanced down onto the foremost in the yard leading to the gate. If Gen. Mahone had fired he could either have seen or heard it. He swore as Gen. Mahone did, that there was no firing after they walked out of the library door. He did not know who fired the shot that wounded Harrison.

Washington, Nov. 5.—A special to the Past from Petersburg, Va., says that a crowd of Democrats marched to Gen. Mahone's house at 10.50 o'clock this evening and, essering the yard, began to fire rock te and roman candles, some of them being aimed at the General's house of his friends went with him to the yard, whereupon the crowd dispersed. There were no policemen about.

At the conditation of the testimony, which was given at times with some excitement, Maryar Collier informed Gen. Mahone shot he deneral hold him in $2,500 bail to answer to the General Court. Gen, Mahone gave bond at ones. Emmel Berry was then fined $10 for avaniting Mr. Romaina. The fine was paid by tien.
